1949/50	032	Obverse of a large stone tablet recording the first military campaign undertaken by king Assurnasirpal II. The account breaks off in the middle of a sentence and proves that this was the first of a series. The left edge of the tablet is inscribed with its number and states quite simply 'Tablet, Year 1'. This piece was found out of position on the floor of Room FF where it had been left abandoned, probably in the reign of king Saragon more than 160 years after it had been written. The annals of the ancient Assyrian kings were respectfully preserved by subsequent rulers for many generations. Dimensions 48 x 41 cms. There were 74 lines of inscriptions in all.
